

Museum Internships

Join the Stanford University Archaeology Collections as an intern and receive training in one of five areas of museum work.

Internships are available at both the undergraduate and graduate levels for 1-5 units (3-15 hours per week). No prior experience is necessary.

CURATORIAL INTERNSHIP

ARCHLGY 97A/297A

Conduct focused object research in preparation for upcoming exhibitions to go on view at the Stanford Archaeology Center.

PROVENANCE RESEARCH INTERNSHIP

ARCHLGY 97D/297D

Look into early collectors and research when, where, and how objects in the collections were acquired.

COLLECTIONS MANAGEMENT INTERNSHIP

ARCHLGY 97B/297B

Learn how to care for collections, including re-housing, storage, cataloging, and managing inventory.

PUBLIC OUTREACH INTERNSHIP

ARCHLGY 97E/297E

Extend the Archaeology Collection's impact beyond campus by drafting social media posts and contributing to K-12 engagement and other community outreach initiatives.

ARCHIVAL INTERNSHIP

ARCHLGY 97C/297C

Analyze, organize, describe, and digitize historic and current museum records, photographs, and related documents.

Interns are supervised by Dr. Danielle Raad, Curator and Assistant Director of Collections.

Email raad@stanford.edu with questions or to express your interest.

